StoryWalk© Author Visit Allan Wolf's A Poetry Palooza March 23 @ 11:00am

A Saturday Event for the Entire Family!

Two-time winner of the North Carolina Young Adult Book Award, Allan Wolf is an author of picture books, poetry, and young adult novels. Also a skilled and seasoned performer of 30 years, Allan's dynamic author talks and A Poetry Palooza for all ages are meaningful, educational and unforgettable! Florida Reading Quarterly calls Wolf "the gold standard of performing poetry."

Allan Wolf's book - Behold our Magical Garden - will also be up for display as a pop-up StoryWalk© at the library between March 18th and March 23rd!

Library Closings

The library is closed March 29th - 30th in observance of Good Friday and Easter.

NC Archives Program - Tracing Your Military Ancestor March 26th @ 3:00pm

Alison Thurman, Correspondence Unit Supervisor for the NC Archives - a part of the North Carolina Department of Natural and Cultural Resources, will teach participants how to find military records to aid in discovering your family history. Anyone interested in genealogy or learning more about an ancestor that served in the US military won't want to miss out on this in-depth look into how the largest archive in the state can assist you in tracing the history behind your family's military service. Registration is requested, sign up at the library's front desk.

North Carolina Reads

North Carolina Reads is a statewide book club sponsored by North Carolina Humanities. Each month, one of five total books are featured that explore issues, history, and culture centered around our state. Participants are invited to take part in virtual book discussions, hosted by NC Humanities, that feature the authors and experts. Copies of each month's book are available at the library today! For a full list of this year's books, visit <https://nchumanities.org/program/north-carolina-reads/>

March's Book

Poster Girls

By Meredith Ritchie

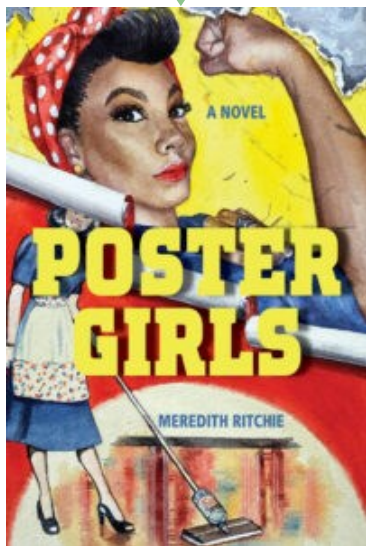

Historical Fiction. After an unwanted southern migration, an upside-down world in 1943 offers military wife and mother, Maggie Slone, a job at Charlotte's largest wartime employer--the massive and dangerous Shell Assembly Plant. Meanwhile, military wife and Alabama native, Kora Bell's steadfast determination enables her to navigate the challenges she faces as a Black woman seeking employment under Jim Crow. A shared love of literature spurs an unlikely friendship between Kora and Maggie, and the two work together to unify the plant's workforce.

Virtual Book Discussion

March 28th @ 6:00pm

This event features the author Meredith Ritchie & Dr. Sarah Patterson in a conversation moderated by Laura Demski Williams.
